Lab fun with the Osborne Public Library Summer Program!

OCMH was excited to host Osborne Public Library's Youth Program on June 26th. While here they learned about blood typing, creating bacteria, taking "cell-fie's" and even completed a scavenger hunt in the lab. Thank you for coming to visit us!

A WORD FROM OUR CEO...

As many small Critical Access Hospitals struggle financially to stay afloat, OCMH is blessed to have a supportive community. We at OCMH want to say “thank you” for your continued support! Our audit for 2022 ended with a profit. The Sarver/McFadden Trust has been generous with their support each year, helping to provide financial assistance for our medical equipment needs, enabling our facility to provide diagnostic equipment that helps our staff to provide excellent care to our patients.

Do antibiotics have side effects?

Any time antibiotics are used, they can cause side effects. However, antibiotics can save lives. When you need antibiotics, the benefits outweigh the risks of side effects. If you don't need antibiotics, you shouldn't take them because they can cause harm.

Common side effects of antibiotics include:

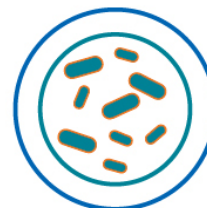

Rash

Dizziness

Nausea

Yeast Infection

Diarrhea

Get immediate medical help if you experience severe diarrhea. It could be a symptom of a C. difficile infection (also called C. diff), which can lead to severe colon damage and death. People can also have severe and life-threatening allergic reactions.

If you experience side effects, follow up with your healthcare professional.

To learn more about antibiotic prescribing and use, visit www.cdc.gov/antibiotic-use or call 1-800-CDC-INFO.

1 out of 5

medication-related visits to the emergency room are from reactions to antibiotics.
